

Senior Director / Director, Corporate Communications & Investor Relations
Job Code 159SW

Description

Fate Therapeutics is seeking an experienced Corporate Communications & Investor Relations professional to proactively develop, implement and manage the Company's communications and investor relations strategies and programs. Under the direction of the CEO, this position is expected to develop key communications strategies, mainly addressing the investor community, and shape cohesive external communications plans. He/she is required to be a strong writer and presenter, with the ability to understand and translate complicated science and concepts into easy to digest messages for broad audiences. This is a full-time position currently reporting to the CEO and is located at our corporate headquarters in San Diego, CA.

Responsibilities:

- Develop, implement, and manage a communications plan for investor and public relations
- Build relationships both internally and externally that enable accurate, efficient and optimal creation and delivery of key messages
- Create and maintain all IR/PR core materials including corporate presentations, press releases, earnings call scripts and Q&A's
- Lead strategic planning for key announcements and disclosures
- Ensure timely input, participation, and internal alignment in IR and PR strategies and activities
- Develop and maintain on-going schedule of IR events including conferences, road shows and earnings calls
- Act as a corporate liaison to institutional investors, analysts and other external stakeholders as directed by senior management

Qualifications

- 10+ years of relevant work experience in investor/public relations in the biotechnology industry (publicly-traded pharmaceutical or biotech company experience is essential)
- Excellent written and oral communication skills for hands-on content development with ability to write and present on relevant scientific topics
- Ability to translate and communicate appropriate messaging internally and externally
- Strong aptitude for understanding and communicating scientific information and clinical data to broad audience
- Strong professional presence and interpersonal skills with demonstrated ability to lead, collaborate, and build relationships, internally and externally
- Ability to manage the communication of sensitive and confidential information
- Knowledge of SEC regulatory requirements and disclosures

Working Conditions and Physical Requirements

- 100% on-site work at corporate headquarters in San Diego, CA
- Occasional evening and weekend work as necessary

The preceding job description indicates the general nature and level of work performed by employees within this classification. Additional and incidental duties related to the primary duties may be required from time to time.

For consideration send cover letter and resume to: careers@fatetherapeutics.com and reference job code 159SW.

About Fate Therapeutics, Inc.

Fate Therapeutics is a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company dedicated to the development of programmed cellular immunotherapies for cancer and immune disorders. The Company's hematopoietic cell therapy pipeline is comprised of NK- and T-cell immuno-oncology programs, including off-the-shelf product candidates derived from engineered induced pluripotent cell lines, and immuno-regulatory programs, including product candidates to prevent life-threatening complications in patients undergoing hematopoietic cell transplantation and to promote immune tolerance in patients with autoimmune disease. Its adoptive cell therapy programs are based on the Company's novel ex vivo cell programming approach, which it applies to modulate the therapeutic function and direct the fate of immune cells. Fate Therapeutics is headquartered in San Diego, CA. For more information, please visit www.fatetherapeutics.com.